Recovery Homestead

A licensed recovery house becomes a working farm.

Investor and seller-finance brief · Rob Nye · Nye Recovery LLC

The ask

$120–160K

Cash to acquire and open a 28–54 acre farm property

Secured by the property. Two structures on slide 10. Proceeds buy the land, the closing, the rehab, and the beds — nothing else.

Buys a licensable farmhouse

An 8-bedroom 1876 farmhouse licenses to 10–14 beds under 28 Pa. Code § 717.29 with no new construction.

In an unzoned township

Wyoming and Bradford counties: no county zoning, no variance, no hearing. The FHA stands behind it regardless.

Backed by a running house

Not a plan. The leased six-to-eight bed house we operate today, with its license and its census, is the collateral's track record.

Detox discharges people to nowhere

~35

overdose deaths per 100,000 — Fayette County, highest in PA

~400

DDAP-licensed recovery houses statewide. They are full.

6 mo

what the evidence says recovery housing needs to hold. Most programs offer 28 days.

The gap is not treatment. It is where people go after it.

Pennsylvania has detox and 28-day beds. What it is short of is a structured place to live for the six months after — long enough for the acute period to pass and habits to form. Single County Authorities say it plainly: there is nowhere to send men who need six months. That is the bed we sell.

What we run today

Fill in at month six, before the first investor meeting. Every blank below is a number we will have.

Opened	—— 2027
Residents today / capacity	—— of 8
DDAP license	No. —— issued ——
Months at or above breakeven (5 residents)	——
Collection rate	——%
SCA referral relationship	—— county, since ——

The model we are copying never bought land

Jacob's Ladder at Brookside Farm

Aurora, West Virginia — the program in the 2018 documentary Recovery Boys.

Six months residential, men. Daily farm work, mindfulness, 12-step, chores, structured community.

The farm is owned by the Utterback family. The program partners with them. It has never carried a mortgage.

Year one — lease

Six to eight beds in a leased house. License it. Fill it. This is done before anyone is asked for money.

Year two — own

Buy the farmhouse with the ask on slide 2. Move the licensed house onto it. 10–14 beds.

Year three — farm

Cottages, greenhouses, livestock. Grants to a nonprofit arm, which by then has a two-year record.

Build where there is no hearing to survive

822

Pennsylvania municipalities with no zoning ordinance at all of rural PA municipalities are zoned. Southeast PA: 99%.

34%

0

county zoning ordinances in Wyoming County. Meshoppen Twp is unzoned.

No variance, no neighbor petition

Unzoned means by-right. The state building code and DEP sewage rules still apply; the political fight does not exist.

The Fair Housing Act is the backstop

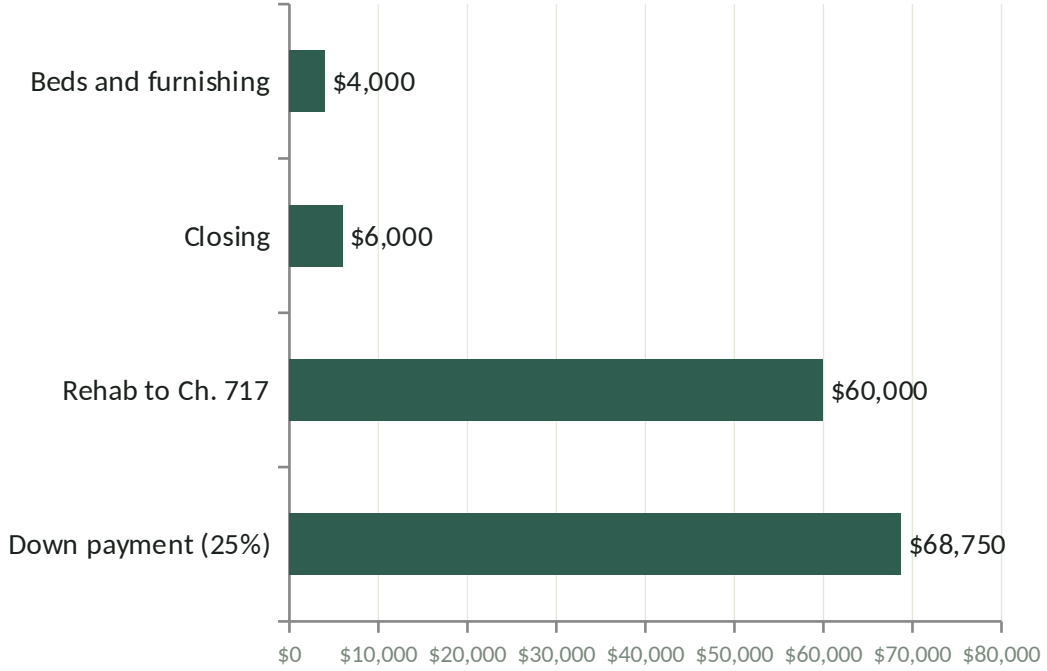

People in recovery are a protected class. U.S. v. Township of Cheltenham; Janush v. Upper Southampton. A township that refuses pays.

Three live comparables, October 2026

Property	Acres	Structures	Asking	Zoning	Fit
Meshoppen, Wyoming Co.	54	Farmhouse + barn, both need work	$275,000	Township unzoned; no county zoning	Best price per acre. Rehab is the question.
Granville Summit, Bradford Co.	28	1876 farmhouse, 8 bed / 2 bath, 3,431 sq ft, barn, silos	Not shown	Verify township	8 bedrooms = 10–14 beds licensed on day one.
Rome, Bradford Co.	30.5	Barn, corn cribs, stream. No house.	$175,000	Verify township	Cheapest acreage. Needs a house built.

Asking prices as listed; none has had a perc test, title search, or Clean & Green check. Every parcel runs the four kill tests in the land file before an offer. Listings go stale in days.

Where $139K goes

$138,750

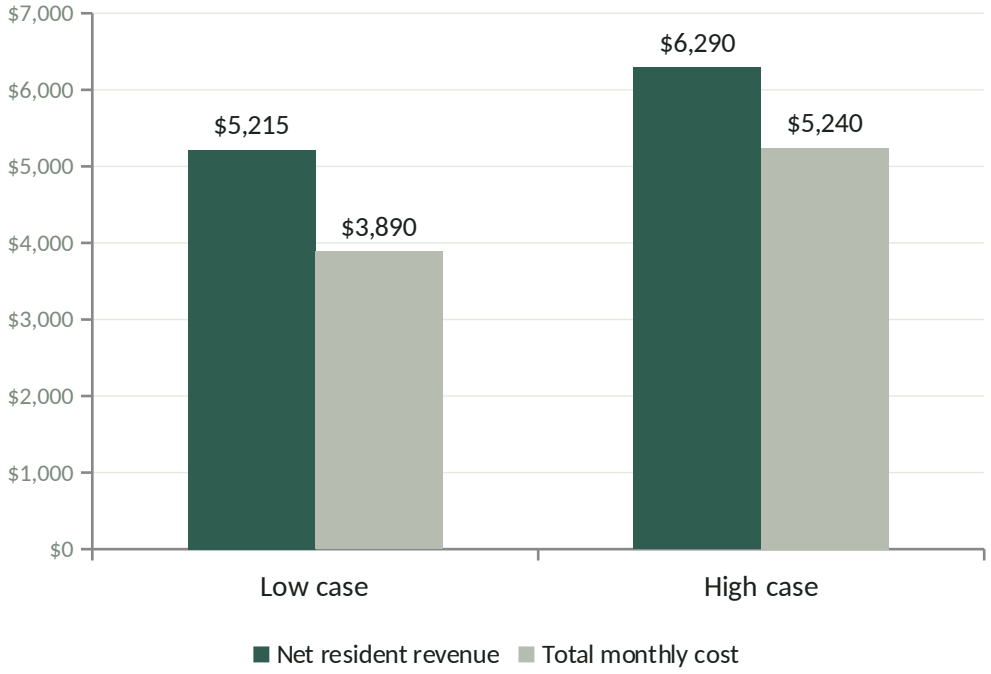

midpoint of the $119–159K range. Rehab is the swing: $40–80K until a contractor walks the house.

Based on the Meshoppen comparable at $275,000.

Down payment assumes a 75% LTV first mortgage or seller carry on the balance.

Rehab is to the § 717.29 standard — egress, 60 sq ft per resident, water under 120°F — not to a magazine.

Ten beds carry the house

$1,050–1,325

net per month at 10 beds, after the mortgage and before the investor is paid.

Revenue: 10 beds at $145–$175/week, less a 17% collection haircut. Comps: Just4Today $145, Cifelli $140, R3 Lancaster $195.

Cost includes the $206K mortgage at 7.5%/30 yr ($1,440), taxes, insurance, utilities, a live-in manager, and a maintenance reserve.

Breakeven is 8–9 beds. Structure A's $1,043/mo interest leaves $7–282 at 10 beds; beds 11 and 12 add $520–630 each. The house we run today is the proof the fill rate holds.

Two ways to structure it

A — Seller carries, investor opens

- Seller finances $206K at 7.5% over 30 years.
- Investor lends $139K for down payment, closing, rehab, beds.
- Interest-only at 9% for 5 years — $1,043/mo — balloon at year 5. Covered at 10 beds; cushioned at 12.
- Second lien on the property plus personal guarantee.
- Exit: refinance into a USDA Community Facilities loan once the nonprofit arm has a two-year record, or sale.

B — Investor owns, we operate

- Investor buys the property outright — the Brookside structure.
- Nye Recovery LLC leases it at a rate that covers the investor's debt service plus a margin.
- Option to purchase at year 5 at appraised value.
- Rehab funded from operations and settlement grants to the nonprofit arm.
- Investor holds title throughout. Lowest risk to them; slowest equity for us.

What goes wrong, and what we do first

No credible house manager

This business is the person living in it. Mitigation: the manager is hired and running the leased house for six months before this ask. Their name is on slide 4.

The township pushes back

Mitigation: buy unzoned. Where that fails, the FHA reasonable-accommodation letter goes to the township the day the lease is signed — before a complaint, not after.

The house sits under nine beds

Mitigation: breakeven is eight to nine beds, not fourteen. The leased house's fill curve is the forecast. If month four is under four residents, we do not come to this meeting.

From the house we have to the farm we want

Now	Month 6	Month 9	Month 12	Month 18	Year 3
Leased 6–8 bed house open, private-pay, DDAP application filed	License issued. Six residents. SCA referring. This deck is current.	Property under agreement. Perc, title, Clean & Green cleared. Close with this raise.	Licensed house moves to the farm. 10 beds.	Nonprofit arm formed. First settlement grant. Farm producing.	Cottages. USDA refinance. Investor exit.

Dark markers are done or in motion today. Everything after month 6 waits on the house hitting its numbers.

The house proves it. The farm scales it.
